

Going to a New School

I put this book together for a young student who was leaving my preschool speech program to attend day preschool at another school in our district. I started reading it to him two weeks before he left in order to help him transition. I also gave him a copy to take home. Because he had learned routines from other books (getting ready for school, brushing teeth, etc.) I wanted to give him something to help him prepare for the routine of a school day.

Enjoy!
