

OUR RULES:

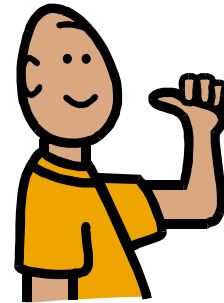

You

Your Guest

To make you and your guest feel happy, there are some rules that will help you and your guest have a fun time. If you both follow the rules you will probably have fun and your guest will probably want to come again another day. This is how to make a better friend.

One rule is that when a guest comes to your house, the guest is always right and the guest is always first. That means they get to take the first turn using toys and playing games. Also, if there is an argument, you should agree with the guest so that they are right. This is the polite thing to do. This will make your guest feel happy and they will probably want to be your friend. But, if the guest is not being safe or does not follow the rules, you can ask an adult for help.
