

Playing Games

A Social Story

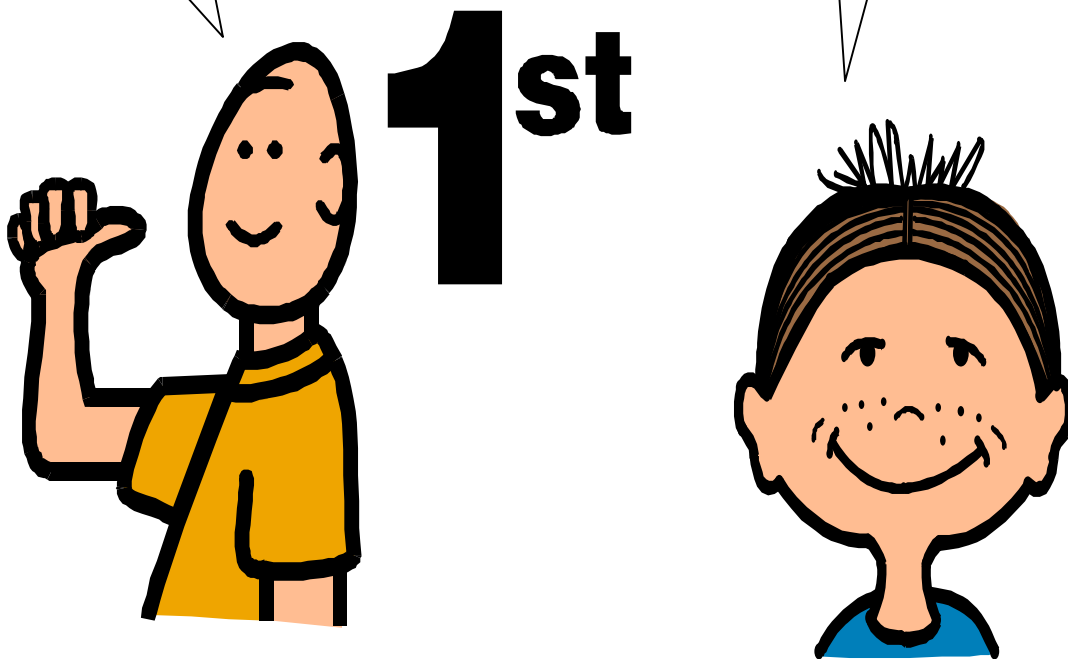

When you play a game, each person will roll the dice.

The person with the highest number will go first and pick their color first.

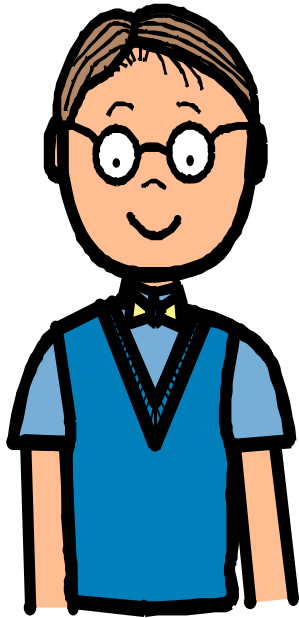

Wow, I get to go first. I am so happy.

I have to go last. Oh, well, that is okay too.

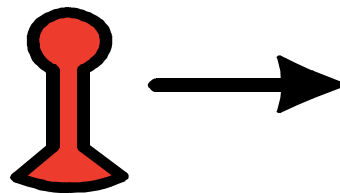

Sometimes we get to go first and sometimes we do not.

I have to pick my color last, but that is okay. I will still have fun.

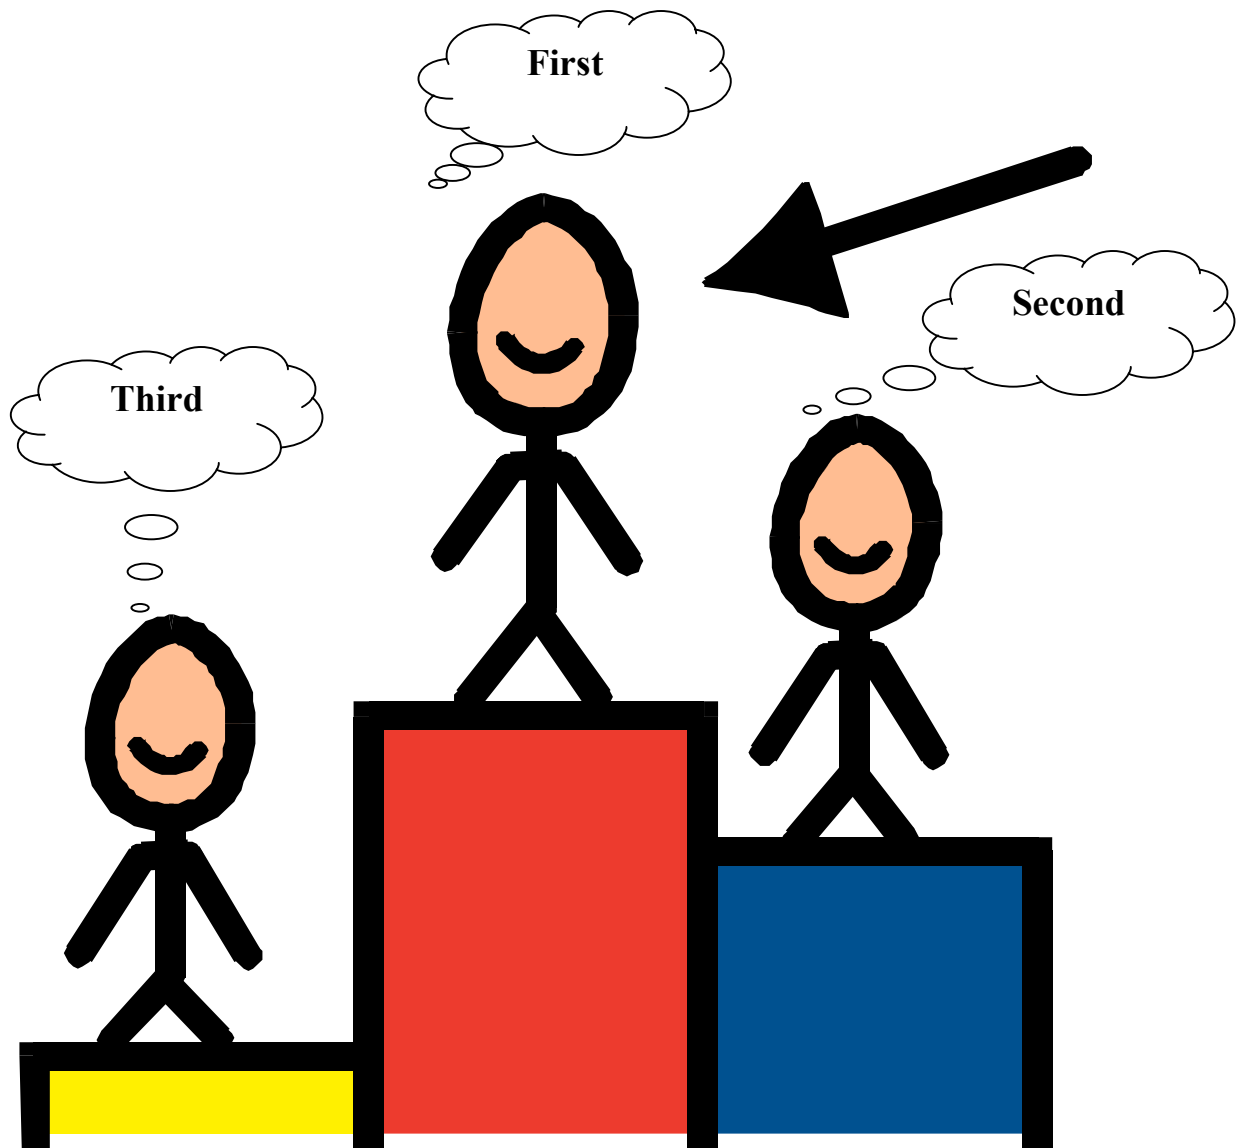

Wow, I get to pick my color first! I am excited.

Sometimes we get to pick our color first and sometimes we do not.

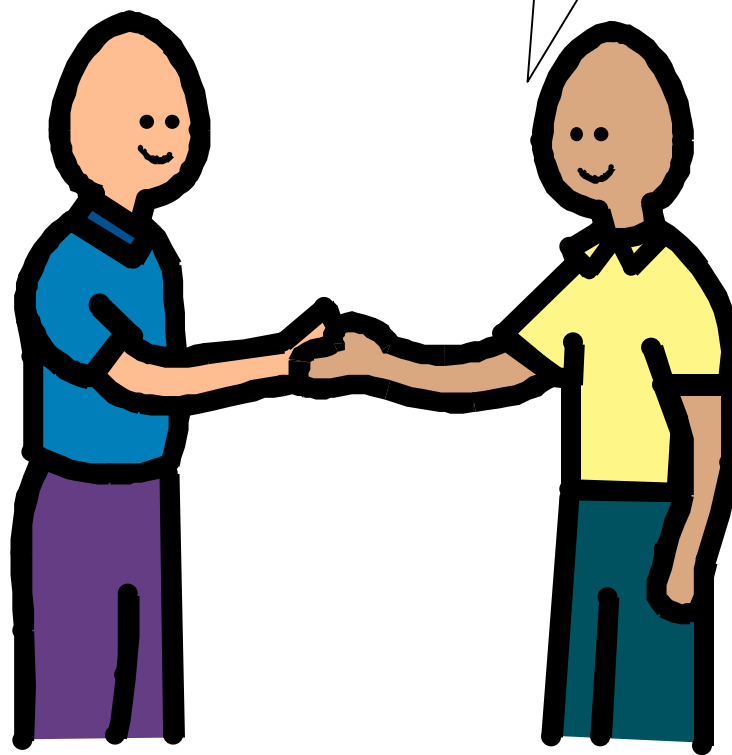

If you do not get to go first or pick the color that you want, you should keep on playing the game.

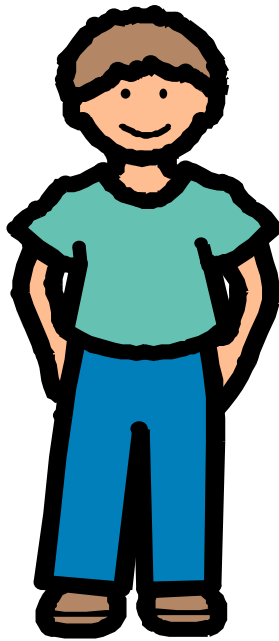

When we play a game, sometimes we win and sometimes we do not.

Congratulations

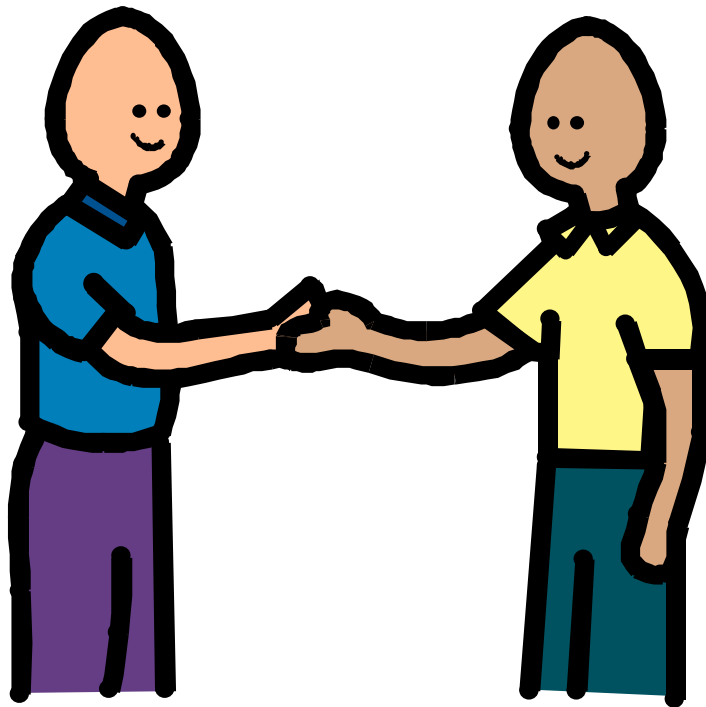

If someone else wins the game, you should say, “Congratulations.”

Good Job.

You could also say, “Good Job.”

Thank you

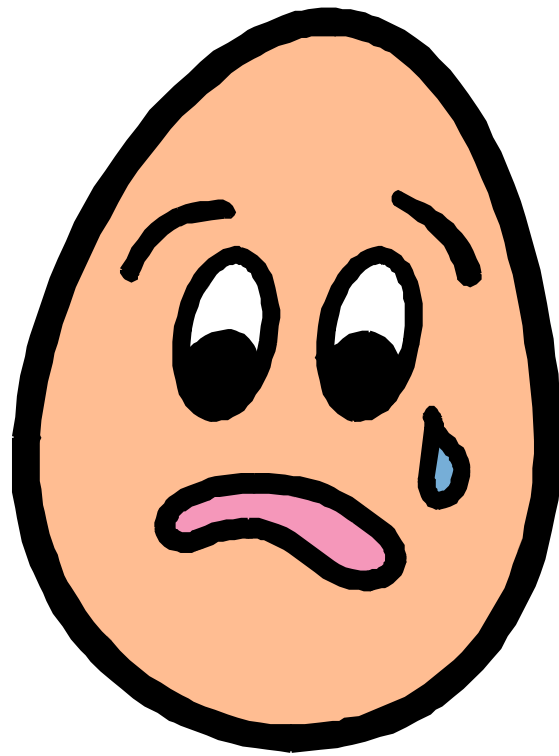

Then, the other person should say,
“Thank you.”

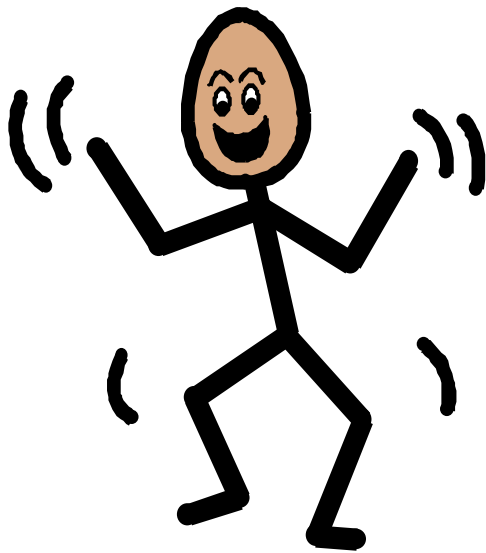

If you win the game, you should be quiet and wait for someone to say,
“Congratulations.”

If someone says,
“Congratulations,” you may feel
happy.

If someone does not say
“Congratulations,” you may feel sad.

It is okay to feel happy or sad.

You should not have a tantrum.

I wish he could play
with us.

I had a tantrum. Now
I have to sit alone.

If you have a tantrum, you will have to sit out of the game alone while the other kids play.
