

Playing Games

Losing

I like to play games and I like to win!

Sometimes I win. When I win, I can show expected behavior by saying nice things.

Sometimes I lose. I don't like to lose. When I lose, I feel very mad.

When I lose, sometimes I cry, whine, and say mean things. This is unexpected.

When I get angry, the winner feels sad. People will have weird thoughts and think that I'm a poor sport.

When this happens, my friends won't want to play with me. This will make me sad because I like playing games.

When I lose, I need to stop, take a deep breath and think... “What would Superflex do?” He would say, “Maybe I’ll win next time.”

Maybe I'll win next time.

Good game!

Let's play again!

I will say, "Maybe I'll win next time." I can tell my friends, "Good game!" "That was fun!" and "Let's play again!"

This makes my friends feel happy and they will want to play with me again.

It makes me feel happy when my friends want to play with me!